Happy Hopkinsville.

Ideal spring weather with occasional showers has brought us into the midst of the most delightful season of the year. All danger of frost seems past and fruit will after all be abundant. Gardens are growing rapidly. Wheat is looking well. Pastures are fine. The farmers are in the midst of tobacco planting. Most of them have sold both the old and new crops of tobacco and many of them have fat bank accounts. In the meantime, Hopkinsville is still "the only town on the map," where all the pictures are painted in bright colors.
